Senator Nye in a Hurry

The earth turns on its axis about 1,000 miles an hour, 25,000 miles in 24 hours. Because of its size, the earth's motion is slow.

At the same comparative rate of speed you could not detect any motion in a cart wheel revolving once in 24 hours.

However, as President Hoover justly explains, there is something slow, and that's the senate's motion on the tariff.

It has been considering a tariff bill, as the President says, "since June, with fifteen schedules to work out, and has not yet completed schedule 1."

Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., head of General Motors, back from Europe, sees no "logical reason for such action as has occurred in security values."

Business is sound, says Mr. Sloan. He believes that the quarter earnings for General Motors will be ahead of the same period for last year.

Edsel Ford announces reductions in Ford prices, expressing the belief of the Ford organization that, "basically, the industry and business of the country are sound."

There is no better contribution to prosperity than to give buyers more for their money, when greater efficiency makes that possible.

It isn't how much money you get, but what you get for your money, that counts.

F. H. Ecker, president of Metropolitan Life, biggest insurance company in the world, replies to a question concerning recent Wall Street excitement:

"Drastic deflation of market prices of shares of common stock in no wise affects life insurance policies issued by companies whose investment practices, guided by New York or the state of New York, or the sound judgment of executives, excludes common stock from their holdings."

"More than ever has this recent experience demonstrated that life insurance is the safest, most dependable repository for the savings of millions of our population, furnishing at the same time sound protection against loss which follows in the wake of death."

New Jersey, first among the states, has absolutely wiped out the gray moth.

Governor Larsen and the state agricultural department are to be congratulated on a fine achievement.

More money than Wall Street could lose in a dozen panics would be saved if science could eliminate agricultural pests, both weevil, corn borer and the rest of the army.

Excellent news comes from Florida as to the success of that state in dealing with the Mediterranean fruit fly. It has been a costly battle, but worth the money and trouble.

Samuel Insull and other big employers, following the example of Julius Rosenwald, supply money to protect employees from losses in stock speculation.

Henry Ford wouldn't agree with that idea. Two years ago when this writer mentioned certain stocks in which there were bound to be heavy losses, Ford said: "Of course, but that's the only way people can learn."

Whether it is wise not to let nature take its course in gambling as in other things, is questionable.

Senator Nye of North Dakota wants Wall Street and "all speculation stifled." What's more, he wants a remedy ready by February 1.

That's a short time for so big a job.

The Malay, in his breech-clout, bets on cock fights.

The proud red Indian piles up his shirt and blanket, bets them on a pony race, standing in dignified nudity.

Two ways of getting something: one is to work, the other to gamble.

Ninety per cent of human beings prefer the gambling way.

That will be changed a good deal later than February 1, 1930.

You will be glad to hear that the Federal Reserve board says the Wall Street earthquake is over, public fears calmed.

It may be permissible to remark therefore, while the earthquake is still fresh in many minds, that gambling is dangerous.

And it isn't necessary. There are other, better ways of making a living in the United States. In addition to which gambling is NO WAY to make a living.

It used to be said, "Wise man, take your profits." That has changed to "Wise man, take your losses," meaning, don't sell in a panic and regret at leisure.

Two more great oil fields have been found, one in Texas, one in Kansas. And it is called "a misfortune" because of the price of oil stocks.

It ought to mean general satisfaction, proving the limitless wealth of this country. Unfortunately, oil companies and government combined have not learned to protect oil resources and prevent criminal waste.

G. RAPIDS COUPLE SEE 17 DEER IN HOUR

John B. Olney and wife of Grand Rapids were guests at the D. E. Matheson home Monday afternoon and evening while enroute home from a trip through the upper peninsula to Duluth. They were elated over their trip north and boasted of having seen three deer on their trip. The editor doesn't like to be outdone by stories of the upper north, so took them on a little sightseeing trip, showing them some of the beauties of our wild country. Naturally they were taken down the AuSable river to the Durant cottage and from there to the E. P. Richardson farm, and did we see any deer? Well, just a few. Nearing Durant's, three beauties were seen standing near the road. We then slipped over to the Richardson farm hoping to get a glimpse of a couple more. Parking our car along side the road we waited but a couple of minutes when two were seen to come out of the woods for a taste of alfalfa, then came a couple of more, later the herd numbered eight, all in plain view. While watching them, across the field scampers a great big buck, jumping fences, ditches, etc., stopping near the junction of the roads to look at another car, then off up the road into the underbrush. Then driving along the road on the west side of the farm three more were seen to cross the road ahead of our car and as we approached the end of the gravel here was another big buck feeding in the marsh less than 15 rods away. Despite our running ahead and backing up to get a good look at him he curled up and laid down for a nap in the grass and all manner of noise failed to scare him out of his bed. Sixteen deer was the number seen in less than an hour's time.—Roscommon Herald-News.

EDITH BALLARD-DUCLOS BROT TO GRAYLING FOR BURIAL

The remains of Edith Ballard-Duclos were brought to Grayling for burial Monday, Nov. 4th from her late home in South Bend, Ind. Mrs. Duclos passed away at her home Friday, Nov. 1 at 6:55 p. m. Her death is attributed to a general breakdown in health. Edith Ballard was born in Genesee county and was a daughter of John K. and Maria A. Ballard. The family moved to Grayling in 1902 where they resided until 1922. She was united in marriage to William Duclos in June, 1916. With her husband she removed to Niles, Mich., in 1922 where they resided for about three years after which they made their home in South Bend where Mrs. Duclos conducted a boarding house.

She was laid to rest beside the remains of her parents and two sisters—Mrs. Marian Adams and Mrs. Cora Burgess, in Elmwood cemetery. Funeral services were held at the home Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial was in the Memorial church in Grayling. Rev. Greenwood conducted the service. Music was rendered by Mrs. C. G. Clippert and her father E. H. Webb. Interment was in Elmwood cemetery.

The deceased is survived by her all-state title with winners at other husband and only brother James Ballard.

Among those from out of the city present at the funeral were James Ballard, brother, and wife of Niles, Mich.; Mrs. Katherine Heath, a 91 year old aunt; and cousins Mrs. Sarah Fox, Elijah Heath and wife, and Miss Effie Heath, all of Birch Run.

The death of Mrs. Duclos will be sorry news to the scores of Grayling people who knew her well from her girlhood, and James, who is the only survivor of this once well known family, has the sympathy of his many Grayling friends.

JOHN CRIPPS DIED WEDNESDAY P. M.

John Cripps passed away at his home on Maple street Wednesday evening, November 6th at 6:30 o'clock. The cause of death was cancer. He was 68 years of age.

Mr. Cripps had been in poor health for some time and only recently was a patient in Mercy Hospital for examination. He and his family had resided in Grayling for the past twelve years.

John W. Cripps was born at Almont, Mich., June 4th, 1866. At an early age his family moved to Escoda and later to Rose City. In 1893 he was united in marriage to Miss Alice Randall at Mio, Mich. He is survived by his widow and his son Archie and daughter Effie. Also the following brothers and sisters: Jacob of Athens, Mich.; Amos of Saginaw; William of Milwaukee; Walter and Fred of Detroit; and sisters residing in Dallas, Texas; Luzerne and Milford, Mich. One son, Glenn, lost his life in France with the American forces.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at Michelson Memorial church. Interment will be in Elmwood cemetery.

SPIKE-HORN KILLS 225 LB. BUCK

A duel of the wilderness in which the vanquished was killed, his side ripped open, was discovered by Conservation Officer A. J. Brockman of Vanderbilt in Otsego County. Brockman discovered a spike horn buck in the woods, glaring at him and pawing the ground. Nearby was the body of a 225 pound prong-horn buck, killed in the fight. A doe and two fawns had been the only spectators to the battle.

The dead deer furnished meat for the county poor farm inmates.

HUNTERS SHOOT PIG

Backus township farmers are not much elated over the forthcoming deer hunting season and are preparing to post their lands against hunting or trespassing. This comes about through the action of hunters during the recent partridge season, when a party of poor sport hunters shot and killed one of George Piaz's brood sows, leaving a flock of little pigs motherless. When a pig looks like a bird or rabbit its time to call a halt, the farmers think, and perhaps they are right.—Roscommon Herald-News.

GAYLORD MAIDEN IS CHOSEN "QUEEN SPUD"

Winsome Julia Allen, Gaylord, was selected Queen of the Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple Show at the annual banquet Thursday, October 31, at in South Bend and also at Michelson Memorial church in Grayling. Rev. Greenwood conducted the service. Seven of the 12 counties in the association were represented. It was the first time the organization had chosen a queen. Miss Allen will compete at Lansing for the Potato Shows.

The 1929 show was the most successful in the history of the association. The exhibits were shown at the Ballard, brother, and wife of Niles, Mich., erected this year.

Our idea of a real hero is an umpire without bullet proof uniform in Chicago making a decision against the home team when it is losing the game.

Damit is the name of a North Carolina man. It must be fine to be able to sign that name to a check when you are paying a bill.

In Honor of Our Brave Boys both Living and Dead

Soon this nation will be observing another Armistice Day. Monday, November 11, will mark the eleventh year since the signing of that historic document on the blood soaked fields of Flanders. You will remember how this nation went wild with joy when the news was flashed across the continent that the war was ended and that peace would again be upon the world.

You will remember that in the midst of our rejoicing there was sadness because many thousands of that great army of freedom would not return, but that forever where poppies bloom, a noble sacrifice to liberty. We are not a war-like nation—we have never waged a conflict except to make men free—and God willing we never shall.

They say that men and nations forget. Let us hope that is true of the deep wounds made by war—wounds that were festered and rubbed by the salt of hate—but now forgotten in the sunshine of a new day.

But let us not forget those who, when the nation called in those stormy days, were the first to answer. Let us join on Armistice Day this year in paying silent tribute, due, reverent homage to Our Glorious Dead.

THE REPORT CARD

(By Grayling Public Schools)

Student Council Busy At First Meeting

Last Wednesday the council decided upon the renewal of the Assembly programs which were successfully carried out last year. Assemblies will be held every other Monday. Beginning next Monday the seniors will entertain; the juniors two weeks later and so on down. The class presenting the best program, if the talent is from that class alone, will have the honor of having its colors decorate the base of the new flagstaff. Further, a box of chocolates will be given to the winning class.

President Elizabeth Matson asks that you choose your class colors soon—you may be the class to win.

Last week a mistake was made in a school note item which stated that Student Council Representative at large were Rudy Harrison and E. Matson. Only one representative at large was chosen—Rudy Harrison. Elizabeth Matson and Arthur Curran were elected by the faculty.

Last Wednesday night, Margaret Fehr and Clara Bugby entertained a small group of friends at a Halloween party at Margaret's home. Games were played and fortunes told, prizes being awarded. The table decorations were of orange and black. After a delicious and truly Halloween-like lunch, the party went to the show and joined in the general Halloween fun afterward. Those present were, Viola Kennedy, Anne Hanson, Bernadette Montour, Lara Ensign, Arthur Curran, Donald Emery, Lawrence Keesler, Arthur May, and A. J. Green.

The Sophomore party, scheduled for last Friday evening, has been postponed until a week from Friday.

Mr. Hill is at Mercy Hospital suffering from blood poisoning in his leg. The High School wishes him a speedy recovery.

Helen Pond was visiting in Bay City last Thursday and Friday.

Mr. Cushman attended the football game last Friday at Okemos.

The drama club is preparing larger proportions during the six weeks period. A number of the students have already received their parts.

Miss Arnold was home over the week-end. Mr. Arnold took her home last Friday and they returned Monday morning.

Girl Scout News

The Girl Scouts will meet every two weeks at seven o'clock on Thursday evening. They must be out of the schoolhouse by eight fifteen, therefore there should be no reason for them not to report at home a few minutes after that time. The Girl Scouts appreciate Mr. LaBarge's consideration in allowing us to have our meetings in the evening.

Jokes

This hard to part with those we love when our hearts are full of hope, But 'tis harder still to find the towel when our eyes are full of soap.

Effie—Why didn't that girl return your hello?

Dot—Oh, she's a friend, she never returns anything.

Karl S.—Speak those words that will mean heaven to me.

Libby—Oh, go shoot yourself.

Gordon—Guess I'm just a little pebble in your life?

Margaret W.—I wish you were a little boulder.

Freshman—Aw, I don't want any of that paint on my face.

Cushman—You'd better, its gonna be rough in there and paint is a good preservative.

Grade News

There are seven new pupils in school ranging from grade 2 to grade 6. This is a very fine thing to have and we wish all the little new-comers the best of luck and hope they like Grayling School as well as we do who have lived here all our lives.

Frances Corwin and Jennie Peterson had the best sketches of "The Brush Parade." A contest was held and the two girls are to be congratulated on their imaginative ability to draw articles from description rather than copying from another sketch.

Miss Hermann's fourth grade are very interested in a new project now being worked out. A complete little store has been made, the shelves being orange crates; the food, samples or empty cartons. The money is round discs made of cardboard and real wrapping paper, bags and twine and thus making the work very attractive.

All are trying to earn better marks and become the "Storekeeper" in this fascinating little store. In this manner work is mixed with play, to the best advantage of all.

Health Notes

The following children acted as doctors and nurses in each of the grades during the month of October:

WELCOME TO GRAYLING

During the past week several new families have been added to our citizenship. They are now residents of Grayling. Most of these families come from Elk Rapids and are connected with the Asphalt division of the State Highway Department. Among those who have taken up their residences here are the following:

James W. Perkins, superintendent, and wife. They are occupying the residence formerly owned and occupied by the Peter McNeven family on Chestnut street.

Ernest O'Brien, finance officer, and wife, occupying the Mrs. Rose Pond residence on Cedar street.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Mickles and son Harold, residing in the Hans Petersen house on Michigan avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Morgan and daughter, at the Burke apartments. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Parks and daughter Priscilla and son Howard, occupying a suite of rooms over the Mac & Gidley drug store.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Brown, occupying the Wm. Woodfield house on Michigan avenue. Parents of Mrs. Perkins.

Mr. and Mrs. William Duffey and son William, residing on Ogemaw street next door to the James Bugby home.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Miller, Spruce street, first house back of Michelson Memorial church.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Hill, Spruce street near Michigan avenue. (Merriman house).

Among others who are coming are Isaac Good, Mr. and Mrs. P. Fleetwood and Mr. and Mrs. Percy Blake.

We are glad to extend a most hearty welcome to these newcomers and trust they are going to be happy among us and will find Grayling a pleasant place to live in.

NEARLY 15,000 VISIT HARTWICK PINES

According to the records, 14,988 persons visited the Hartwick Pines this season, and 151 persons used the park for camping purposes. That is a fine record considering that the road to the Pines was very poor. This will be remedied early next season after which that place is destined to become Michigan's finest park. The park itself also is to be improved and already workmen are busy constructing one of the buildings that is to house a museum of early pinery lumber days camp equipment and implements used in lumbering. Part of this equipment for the museum was obtained from the Johannesburg Manufacturing Co., and also from other sources in the state.

GOODFELLOWSHIP CLUB NOTES

The first annual meeting of the Goodfellowship Club was held Monday evening the home of Mrs. Geo. Alexander with the President, Mrs. C. C. Clippert in the chair.

After roll call and business session, the club listened to Miss Stewart, state director for the National Red Cross.

The Club are making a study this year of home decorations and gardening. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Clippert.

Local Happenings

Russell Robertson of Bay Port was here over the week end visiting his mother Mrs. Peter Robertson.

Visit Miss Maxine Gollen at her beauty shop in the Burke apartments. She will be open for business Monday, Nov. 11.

See the new slippers added to our bargain rack. 5 and 6 dollar values, $2.95, at Olson's.

George McCullough returned last week from a visit in Chicago and also with his daughter, Mrs. George Land and family at Dowagiac.

A regular monthly meeting of the Nurse's Alumnae association was held at Mercy Hospital Tuesday evening. Business matters were discussed and after the meeting lunch was served.

Thomas Cassidy, Mrs. Victor Thelon and little daughter Barbara Ann accompanied by Joe Cassidy motored to Cadillac Tuesday. Mr. Cassidy and Mrs. Thelon went on to Grand Rapids and Joe returned home the same day.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Cripps and little son Raymond Mark are here from Detroit owing to the former's father, John Cripps, being seriously ill at his home. Mr. and Mrs. Cripps will remain in Grayling indefinitely.

Charles Hill, who has been a patient at Mercy Hospital suffering from an infection in his foot was dismissed Tuesday. Mrs. Harry LaBarge took Mr. Hill's place in school and Mrs. Lorane Sparkes took charge of Mrs. LaBarge's grade.

Miss Fedora Montour of Ann Arbor arrived home Sunday to spend a few weeks at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Montour. She was accompanied by Lipman Landsberg of Inkster, who remained over the week end as her guest.

In spite of the already low prices, Edsel Ford, president of the Ford Motor Co. announces substantial reductions in prices of Ford cars and trucks. George Burke, the local dealer says there never was a time when anyone could get good cars for so little money.

To say that Mr. and Mrs. David Montour were proud of their new arrival would be putting it mild. It was a boy and he was born at Grayling Mercy Hospital Monday evening. With seven girls in the family who wouldn't be happy over the arrival of a son? It seems next to impossible to find a name just suitable for him, but no doubt when he grows up it will be "Dave."

Lionel McClain was the lucky hunter Tuesday when he bagged three fine coons. He was hunting near Reindeer ranch when he discovered what looked like a round, fuzzy ball on the end of a tree limb. He soon discovered that it was alive and was a coon. After shooting the first one, two others came into view and the result was that he got them all. The pelts are very valuable, selling for from $12 to $15 each. Not a poor day's work.

There were 272 children given toxin-antitoxin at the school yesterday forenoon which number was 22 more than were present last Wednesday. However those who were late in getting started or missed the first dose are asked to come again next Wednesday between the hours of 8 and 11 o'clock and then on Wednesday, November 20th, between 8 and 9:30 o'clock for the last shot. Of course those who have had two doses will receive the last one next Wednesday, November 13, so mothers don't forget to have your children there.

Hunters' feet and hands must be warm. Get fixed up at Olson's Shoe Store.

This community may never need the aid of the Red Cross in a large degree still its very influence is spread over our community just the same. Keeping people well is a big part of the program of the Red Cross and its work is carried on largely thru the schools. Then, too, whenever there are large disasters the Red Cross is almost certain to be on hand. The annual roll call is on at this time. They need your help. Please respond as liberally as you feel able to. There will be a Red Cross booth in front of the post office next week Wednesday and Thursday with attendants to accept your donation. Please help—be a member of this great humane organization.

Hallowe'en night passed off with but little unpleasantness. Of course the youngsters had a good time but it was mostly good clean pleasure and not of the destructive kind. Door bells were rung, windows were soaped, the curfew bell rung frequently throughout the early hours, but at that the youngsters were in general very well behaved. Night Marshal Johannes Rasmussen got some of the youngsters together and gave them a lecture on what should not be done. Destruction of property. It is to his credit and to the credit of our young boys and girls that Hallowe'en went off merrily but without nuisance. Only one incident arose to mar an otherwise pleasant event and that was that someone destroyed the fence belonging to Peter Smith that separates one of his lots and the Mosher service station.

WOMAN'S CLUB NOTES

The first regular meeting of the Woman's Club for the year of 1929-1930 was held at the home of Mrs. T. P. Peterson, Monday evening, November 4th.

The meeting was called to order by President Mrs. Jennie Sorenson. Members responded to roll call, with payment of dues. Business meeting was held.

Mrs. Roy Milnes sang two very pretty selections, "Daddy Boy" and "I Love You, Dear."

The president, Mrs. Sorenson, gave a short address, bidding the new members welcome and offered her hearty cooperation at all times.

Miss Stewart of the National Red Cross gave a talk regarding the annual Red Cross roll call and the various purposes for which this money is used.

Mrs. Laura Olson gave a splendid report on the state federation meeting at Lansing.

The committee served a very delicious lunch.

AGRICULTURAL NOTES

Protein for Poultry

The poultry raiser has no control over the price of feed and eggs, but he can control the rate of egg production at different times of the year. Eggs are scarce on most general farms during the fall and winter, when egg prices are highest, mainly because the hens don't get enough protein during the winter for good egg production. An egg, aside from the shell, contains 13.4 per cent protein, while poultry flesh contains 21.6 per cent protein. A mixture of corn, wheat, and other grains contain only about 10 per cent protein and should be supplemented with a mash containing high-protein feeds, such as meat scraps, fish meal, milk, soybean meal, peanut meal, cottonseed meal, and gluten meal.

Keep the Calf Growing

Spring beef calves which are to be fattened this winter should be fed grain in a creep for 4 to 6 weeks previous to weaning time. They should go into dry lot at the end of the pasture season so as to be ready for market next spring or early summer.

Selecting Pullets for Breeders

Four things should be kept in mind when selecting pullets as potential breeders. First is earliness of maturity. When the pullets are put in the laying house, note those that begin to lay early. Intensity of production is the second factor. In breeds where beaks and shanks are normally yellow, as the Plymouth Rock, Leghorn, and Rhode Island Red, the heaviest laying pullets usually bleach out the normal color of the beaks and shanks more quickly than those that lay only intermittently. The third factor is broodiness, which is inherited and often responsible for reducing egg production (this does not apply to Leghorns). Persistence of production in late summer and fall, combined with time and rate of molting, is the last thing to notice. Laying pullets that molt early in their pullet year are usually poorer layers than those that molt late in the fall. It is easy to mark the pullets with different-colored celluloid leg bands for these four things.

It takes about 50 per cent more corn to fatten young hogs when corn alone is used than when the corn is balanced by some feed rich in protein such as soybean meal or tankage.

It costs each man, woman and child in the United States less than one cent a year for the protection from adulterated and misbranded foods and drugs afforded under the Federal pure food law.

Although turkey raising under suitable conditions is quite profitable, the number of turkeys in the country is much less than 30 years ago. During the last 15 years, however, there has been little change in the number raised, and interest in commercial turkey raising has recently increased.

In cutting wood for fuel, only the crooked, diseased, and insect damaged trees and sound dead trees should be taken. Large over-mature trees are unsuitable for lumber because of their big branches, short trunks and often rotten heart, should also be cut for fuelwood. The sound, straight, thrifty trees that will develop into good marketable timber should be left in the farm woodland.

After cutting, season your green fuelwood. To season rapidly, wood should be piled, or "ricked up," in narrow long piles exposed fully to the sun and wind and protected against rain. A woodshed is a good investment, particularly if built with a good overhanging roof and with an open or stripped section all the way around, a foot or two higher than the floor to provide for air ventilation.

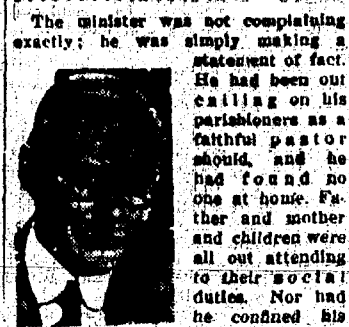

Many persons can remember trapping muskrats in their youth and making good profits by selling the skins for perhaps 20 cents apiece. Now muskrat pelts sell for about ten times that amount, the carcasses are sold as meat for as much as the skins formerly brought, and muskrat farming in marsh areas has become a profitable industry. The annual catch in the United States is now around 14,000,000 muskrats. The chief requirements in muskrat farming are to maintain a food supply for the animals and to guard against depleting their numbers by too close trapping. In some localities muskrats are kept on definite premises by fencing.

Farmers' dairy cooperatives received $840,000,000 in 1928 from the sale of dairy products. Of this amount, nearly 42 per cent was from the sale of fluid milk, about 41 per cent from butter, 7 per cent from cream, and 5 per cent from cheese.

We suppose that during the season just drawing to a close every Congressman in the U. S. took credit for that $185,000,000 surplus in the treasury.

CLAIMED TO DEATH

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois

The minister was not complaining exactly; he was simply making a statement of fact. He had been out calling on his parishioners as a faithful pastor should, and he had found no one at home. Father and mother and children were all out attending to their social duties. Nor had he condescended his calls to the village. Out in the country as well the house doors were closed and the windows down, and no one came when he knocked at the door. Hard roads and the automobile had made it easy for the country dwellers to wander afar. There was a time when country life isolated women especially, and during the winter or the busy season in the spring they might not get outside of the yard for weeks. Not so now.

We all have our clubs and our societies, and we are slaves to their demands. There is Mason, for instance. He is a professional man with marked athletic and religious tendencies. He has a family, but he belongs to things, as they do. Last week's program was possibly a little more congested than usual—possibly not. There was a business meeting of the officers of his church on Sunday at nine, so that he had to leave the house shortly after breakfast. Church services are at eleven and he does not like to be absent. He was invited out to dinner at one, there was a tea at the house of one of his acquaintances at four, and he was due to make a short speech at a fraternal meeting at six. The day was pretty well taken up by the time he arrived home, and he had seen very little of his family. The medical society meets on Monday, the Rotary club on Tuesday, the City Commercial club on Wednesday, and so on throughout the week. Noon or night he is almost never at home.

These facts affect his family's happiness and comfort very little, however. His wife's time is almost equally taken up with her own organizations. She has her bridge club, and the Ladies' Missionary society, an art club and a reading circle, and at least two afternoons are given up to golf. One must be in good physical condition if one is to keep up the pace at which we go these days. Mrs. Mason has not very much time at home either. Nor have her children. They are off at school most of the day, and for the evenings they have their social organizations, their dancing clubs, their scout activities and something or other to take them away from home the greater part of the time.

It is so generally. We belong to so many things, we are so obsessed with social and professional and religious and political and other activities that we have little time to spend at home. We must be learning a tremendous amount, or doing a great deal of good, or possibly wasting our energies. At any rate we are not over-developing home influences. Are we being clubbed to death?

Inside Information

Hard-cooked eggs are excellent with Finnan Haddock or other smoked fish served in cream sauce or scalloped.

It is not necessary to skim jelly constantly while it is cooking. It is less wasteful to skim once, when the jelly is done, just before you pour it into glasses.

For a good sandwich spread mix peanut butter and strained honey. Another good honey spread is equal parts of thick honey and grated orange rind, slightly salted.

Children will enjoy their meals and take more interest in eating what they are given if they have their own set of dishes and table implements. The knife, fork, and spoon should be easy to grasp and use, the tumbler for water should fit small hands, and the pitcher for milk should be sturdy, easy to pour from, and not too heavy to hold. Very young children can soon learn to feed themselves without mishaps if given the right articles to handle. At first it may be necessary to guard the floor and furniture against spilling, but after a few accidents the child will be quite independent.

The proper care of shoes in wet or cold weather greatly prolongs their life. Thorough greasing with suitable oils or greases is necessary for all shoes worn for out-of-doors work. Neat-foot, cod and castor-oils are among the best materials for greasing. Tallow and wool grease are also good. First brush the soles and uppers well and then warm the shoes carefully, taking care not to get them very hot. Apply warm oil or grease no hotter than the hand can bear, with a swab of wool or flannel, and rub it well into the leather. Work the grease in with special care where the sole is joined to the upper. Let the greased shoes dry in a warm but not hot place. Whenever the leather begins to dry or fails to turn off water well, this should be done.

Include a "surprise" of some sort in the school lunch box. If you think back to your own school days you will remember how monotonous lunches used to be. A few nuts, raisins, dates, or figs, a special kind of cookie, or an especially choice fruit—something that can be saved until last—will be greatly appreciated. If there is time wrap the "surprise" in an interesting way.

Good quality silk is durable material, but it cannot be washed like cotton. Use only lukewarm water for silk garments, for both washing and rinsing. Make good suds of a neutral soap, and wash with as little rubbing as possible. Be careful that the silk does not come in contact with washing powders which bleach, because these powders may rot the material.

Smothered ham with sweet potatoes is just right for these fall days. Cut a slice of smoked ham into pieces suitable for serving. Brown these lightly on both sides, and arrange them to cover the bottom of a baking dish. Spread 3 cups of raw sliced sweet potatoes over the ham. Sprinkle with 2 tablespoons sugar, and add 1 cup of water and 1 tablespoon of butter or ham drippings. Cover the dish. Bake slowly until the ham is tender. Bake the potatoes occasionally with the gravy. Brown the top wall when the ham and potatoes are done.

The innocent little boy who used to believe in Santa Claus has grown up and now believes all the "dope" on the stock market that comes in the tipster shoe.

Lady Suffered For Years With Kidney Trouble And Nervousness Found New And Glorious Health

MRS. V. F. KELLER
"I had suffered for years with kidney and bladder trouble," said Mrs. V. F. Keller, 522 1/2, Emerson street, Detroit, Michigan. "I dreaded to see light come, as it meant suffering and bad dreams. I would have to get up four or five times and there were sharp pains in my back over my kidneys at all times. I became very nervous, so much so that every sudden noise would make me jump. I lost my appetite and my strength and vitality were rapidly leaving me."
"A few weeks treatment of Konjola, and every trouble had vanished. I never have pains in my back and the night riding is a thing of the past. My nerves are calm and steady. My appetite has been restored and I feel stronger and better in every way."

Konjola is sold in Grayling, Mich., at the Mac & Gidley drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

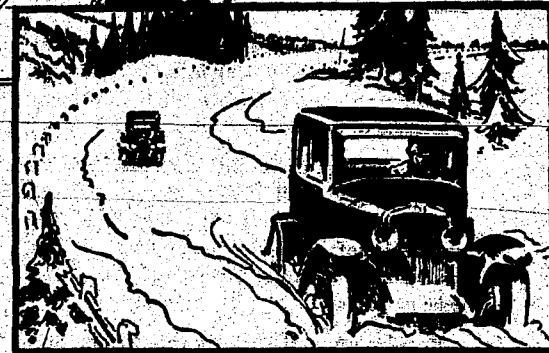

"What! A weather bureau?"

Testing a car's performance in heavy rain. From actual photograph.

The Weather Bureau at General Motors Proving Ground, at Milford, Mich.

Drawn from a photograph of a car being tested on a muddy road.

VISITORS to General Motors' 1168-acre Proving Ground marvel at the sight of a complete weather bureau and ask what it is for.

The answer is that in the testing of cars every possible factor that might affect a car's performance is considered by General Motors' engineers.

So precise are some of the tests that even the difference between a sunny day and a partly cloudy day—or between a north breeze and a south breeze—is considered.

With each day's record of the mechanical tests applied to a car on the roads and hills of the Proving Ground is included a report of the exact weather conditions prevailing. The engineers then can know how weather affects performance, and can have a comparable record so that every car tested is given an equal opportunity to prove itself under exactly the same conditions.

Advance models of all the cars listed below were proved at the Proving Ground before they were introduced to the public. Read about them; then clip and send the coupon.

-have you driven a Chevrolet Six?

Have you felt the thrill of its six-cylinder performance—so smooth, quiet and vibrationless that you almost forget there's a motor?

Have you known the satisfaction of its six-cylinder reserve power—ready to shoot you ahead at the traffic light, to carry you over the steepest hills, or to speed you along the highway?

And do you know that anyone who can afford any car can own a Chevrolet Six?

If you have never driven a six-cylinder car, it is impossible for you to form any idea of Chevrolet performance from your imagination alone.

Smoothness! No rumble in the body—no tremble in the steering wheel—no vibration to loosen windows and doors!

Flexibility! Power that flows in a silken stream—and never a trace of "lugging"!

Quiet! Hardly a whisper from the motor. You can drive it for hours without the slightest noise fatigue! But why try to tell you the story when only a ride can give you the facts? Come in. There's a car waiting for you. Now!

Interesting Events In Grayling 23 Years Ago

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVANCE OF 23 YEARS AGO.

Thursday, November 8, 1906

P. Borchers is enjoying a week's outing on Portage Lake.

The usual contingent of hunters are coming into the county and moving out to their camps to be ready for the opening morning.

Married, at the home of the officiating justice, J. J. Niederer, November 3rd, Daniel LaDuke and Mrs. Sadie McLeod, both of Grayling.

We always knew we had the bright, out and best lot of girls of any village, and they are a little better even than we thought. Last Friday a bevy of lassies came over from East Jordan to play basket ball, and they were such a sweet, jolly lot, so nearly like our own, that it seemed too bad to send them home defeated, so our girls gave them the game, 10-to-1, so they would feel awfully good. There was a nice crowd and a world of fun, and it is hoped they will all come again but we cannot promise them the same generous treatment.

Reports indicate election of Fred W. Warner for governor by majority of over 100,000. The county election resulted as follows:

C. W. Amidon, D, defeated Geo. F. Owen, R, for Sheriff by 7 votes.

For clerk James Colleen, R, defeated Amos Bick, D, by 78.

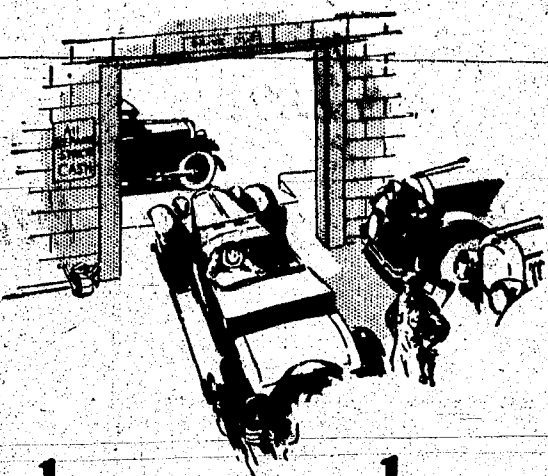

Walmer Jorgenson, D, was elected treasurer over A. P. Becker, R, by majority of 192.

Rolla Brink, R, defeated John Leese, D, for Registrar of Deeds by 360.

Dr. O. Palmer, R, had no opposition for the office of Prosecuting Attorney nor Circuit Court Commissioner.

Twenty years ago no one would have believed the time was coming when it would be perfectly all right for a woman of 60 to show as much legs as a girl of 6. —Circuit Court Commissioner.

What about carbon that mechanics can't reach?

Considerable carbon forms on the underside of piston heads. Naturally, this carbon can be reached only by removing the pistons.

When this carbon is hard and flinty, gritty particles chip off and drop into the crankcase. Mixing with the lubricating oil, they become a menace to expensive engine parts.

Shell Motor Oil avoids this danger. It forms a surprisingly small amount of carbon. And what little is deposited in a Shell-lubricated engine is soft, fluffy and soot-like... the kind which actually blows away with the exhaust gases.

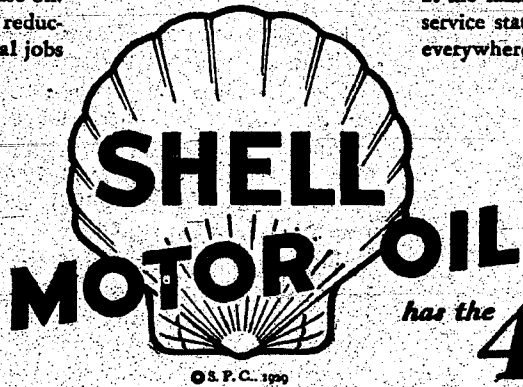

Regular users of Shell Motor Oil are protected from the danger of abrasive carbon particles in the crankcase oil. They report a marked reduction in carbon removal jobs and a new freedom from "frozen" piston rings and pitted valves.

Only Nature's richest lubricating crude forms the base of Shell. Refined by the new Shell-developed, low-temperature process... never scorched or weakened. And tested 259 times before it reaches you.

That is why the rich, unvarying quality of Shell Motor Oil provides the four essentials of correct lubrication: Low Carbon Content, Non-Fouling Carbon, Ideal Body at All Operating Temperatures, and Low Pour Point.

STOP AT THE SIGN OF THE SHELL—And let the Shell Lubrication Chart be your guide. Courteous salesmen await you at the familiar yellow and red service stations. Convenient everywhere.

has the 4 essentials of complete and proper lubrication.

LIGHTHOUSE ADVENTURES

PART I

"Many, many years ago," said the old lighthouse keeper to the two children at his knee, "when I was as young as you are now, I had an adventure that I shall never forget. It happened when I lived with my father and mother and little sister in a lighthouse built on a lonely rock, a mile from shore. You don't see that kind nowadays. All the family lived in the lower part of the tower, and the man of the family tended the lamp and rang the bell when a fog came up. My sister Jane and I used to play on the rocks when the tide was low.

"Now, you know a lighthouse warns the passing ships of dangerous rocks or shoals. Nowadays there are enormous lamps in their towers, enclosed in glass and shaped so as to send the powerful beams far beyond the horizon. Some of them are whirled about by machinery to make the light flash.

"Our lamp was fixed in one place. There was a bell, too, that was used when the fog was too thick for the light to be seen from very far away. It was rung by clockwork. Sometimes it would ring for days, twice every minute, until the fog lifted or the storm was over.

"At the time of which I am telling you, I was eight years old and my sister was three. I had never been allowed to help with the lamp. In fact, I had always been put to bed right after supper.

"On one particular night I remember I had been put to bed even earlier than usual because my father and mother were busy. It was very stormy. From my bed in the room off the kitchen I watched my father come in from making the boat fast, his oilskins glistening wet in the light of the lantern he carried.

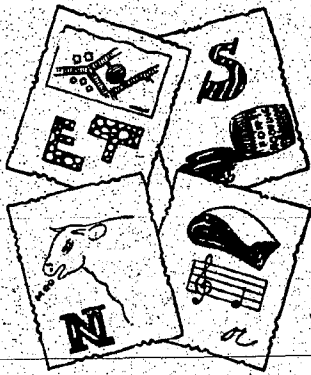

"The sound of the waves beating on the rocks and swishing through the iron ladder kept me awake. The wind was whirling around the lower tower. Boom—swish, boom—swish, the waves pounded until it almost seemed as if the strong stone walls trembled.

"Finally I could stand it no longer. Softly my bare feet struck the floor and I padded to the window. With my face pressed against the cold pane I could see through the wash of raindrops, the white crests of waves rising to strike, and the swirl of foam. All this time the bell was clang-clang-clang in the tower.

"Suddenly I saw something looming darkly over by the reef. I could make out dimly a long low shape with one end pointed towards the sky. Could it be a ship?

"In less than a minute bathrobe and slippers were on, and I was out in the kitchen and starting up the stairs.

THE SKY PUZZLE

(Guess these four sky bodies) —Harvey Penke.

There I met my father who was coming down.

"You are a big boy now, son, he said. 'Your mother is in the tower. Run up and help her. You can strike the bell. It is out of order. And he was off into the stormy night.

"I ran as fast as I could around and around the iron staircase up to the little room at the top of the tower. The light was burning brightly, but no one was there. Then I remembered. My mother must be out on the balcony with the bell. I poked my head out of the door into the cold wind. Sure enough, there she was, bundled up in an oilskin coat, with a hammer in her hand, striking the bell.

"Father says I may help," I shouted above the wild. She bundled me up in her slicker, and gave me the hammer and a watch to time myself by. I noticed that she seemed worried. While she was showing me how to strike the bell she kept looking down into the darkness. I looked, too, when I could, and saw the thing that was frightening her.

"Way down upon a slippery point of rock stood father. A coil of rope lay on his arm and the waves dashing over him. He is trying to save the men on the boat," my mother said in answer to my mute question. Then she hurried back into the little house to trim the lamp.

"While I struck the bell I watched my father. I saw him coil the rope to throw. The ship was not far away but its outlines were vague in the blurred light of the lantern. Just as he threw the rope a wave splashed over him and he missed his aim. He had to drag it in and try again. This time it was caught and made fast. A small black object, clinging to the rope, dropped into the water—then two more.

CRAMPTON'S E. M. T. ADDRESS

ELICITS EDITORIAL COMMENT

The address made by Congressman Louis L. Crampton at the annual joint banquet of the East Michigan Tourist association and the North-Eastern Michigan Development Bureau at Bay City, October 24, has attracted wide attention. Already two newspapers in East Michigan—the Alpena Daily News and the Lapeer County Press—have commented editorially upon Mr. Crampton's remarks. Probably no federal statesman is better equipped through knowledge and experience to speak authoritatively regarding good roads.

The Latter Day Saints down river have organized a Sunday School to be called Ausable Valley Sunday School which will be held at Feldhauser schoolhouse beginning Sunday, Nov. 10th, at 10 o'clock Central Standard time. Everyone cordially invited to attend.

Miss Agnes Hanson resigned her position at the Sorenson Bros. store and left Sunday for Detroit, where she expects to be employed. Her position as bookkeeper at the store is being filled by Miss Helen Lietz, a graduate of last year's class from Grayling High school. Howard McKenzie of Pontiac drove up to accompany Miss Hanson to Detroit.

The Saginaw Amusement club will give another of their popular dancing parties at the Temple theatre next Saturday night. Everybody welcome. Those who attended the first party given by this organization last Saturday evening seemed to enjoy themselves very much. Good music.

Earle Gierke returned home Tuesday morning from Grand Rapids, having completed his secretarial course at the Davenport-McLaughlin Institute. Next year he expects to enter the University of Michigan, but at present is taking a vacation before taking up any position.

The Tri-County Telephone Co. is making some extensive improvements to its lines, using about 450 miles of copper wire. A new line is being completed between Alpena and Gaylord, about 75 miles in length, and a new line from Roscommon to Houghton Lake village, 26 miles. In all about $100,000 is being spent by the Company during the year of 1929. And the Bell Telephone Co. too is making extensive improvements, spending several hundred thousand dollars in new poles and copper wiring between Standish and Petoskey. These utility companies are doing their parts by giving the public the best service money and brains can produce.

Mrs. Frank Reed was called to the Hall this week to attend the funeral of an aged woman.

Mrs. George Reed entertained a few friends for a party, honoring her sister-in-law, Mrs. Irwin Haskins, the occasion being her birthday. Late in the evening Mrs. Barber served a three course lunch. Mrs. Haskins received some lovely gifts.

Invitations have been received in Grayling to the wedding of Lewis Lantz Michelson and Constance Atwater Stanbrough at Jefferson Ave. Presbyterian church, Detroit, Michigan, Thursday, November 21st. The groom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Michelson and grandson of the late Nels Michelson, is well known to Grayling people.

Mrs. Herbert Stephan entertained the "Smart Set" at her home Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Floyd Conrad (Ethel Stillwell) of Detroit was the guest of honor. Prizes were won by Mrs. Stephan and Mrs. LeRoy Scott. The hostess, assisted by the committee, served a delicious lunch late in the afternoon. The club will meet with Mrs. Neal McDaniels this Thursday.

New electric lights are being installed along highway U. S. 27, beginning near the golf course and continuing north of the hospital. There will be 12 lights in all and of 250 candlepower with Holophane reflectors. They will replace 10 lights of 100 candlepower each. This is going to make Grayling the best lighted city in Northern Michigan.

Did you ever notice that tobacco is always clean? If a man drops a piece of meat, no matter how clean the floor may be, he will either give it a kick or pick it up and lay it to one side. He will never eat it. But let him drop his plug of tobacco on the ground and no matter how dirty the spot where it fell, he will pick it up and give it a careless swipe on his coat sleeve or on the bosom of his pants and then take a chew with greater relish than ever.

You don't need a chimney sweep to clean the soot from the chimney—all you need is common salt. The fire should first be put in good condition with a substantial bed of hot fuel on top, and about a pound of dry salt sprinkled on the fire close to the furnace door. Shut the door and open all the dampers so the fire will burn as rapidly as the drafts permit. Keep the dampers wide open until the fumes have disappeared, about a half hour. Exceptionally heavy deposits of soot may require an additional dose of salt.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Vallad entertained a large number of young people at their home Thursday evening. The guests had to climb through a window where a ghost welcomed them, surrounded by black cats, witches and goblins. Things looked pretty "spooky" by candlelight with a ghost peering at you from every corner. Games and visiting were enjoyed. Herbert Stephan won the mule prize. The hostess passed out numbers and each guest had to eat supper with whoever had the same number. Mrs. Vallad served a delicious midnight lunch. Everyone had a splendid time.

Gov. Fred W. Green dropped into town out of the clouds Monday, nodded a head and passed a smile to Rubé-Babbitt and shook himself saying that "this isn't what it's cracked up to be," meaning cold weather flying, and then hopped into a car with R. A. Wright, superintendent of the AuSable Furs, Inc., and drove away. They drove to a place near Luzerne to look over a pheasant ranch. Mr. Wright returned the same day but the Governor remained to Wednesday when he returned to Grayling and the same plane that brot him here returned and scooped him up again, flying away to some other place. The plane was driven by H. F. Harper, president of the Izaak Walton League of Michigan.

Harry Horton of Flint was in Grayling recently having stopped off while enroute home from Ontonagon where he was a witness in a murder trial in which his former wife is accused of murdering her second husband, George Bentley, on July 11th last, at Whitepine, Mich. Horton testified on the side of the people. At one time Horton resided in Frederic. He was divorced from the present Mrs. Bentley in 1917.

The deer hunting season begins Friday, November 15th. Many of the local hunters are getting ready to invade the wildwoods in quest of their quarry. While some will go into the upper peninsula for their hunting, where their parties can have a fine time together, others will content themselves near home. There seems to be a plenty of deer for everyone no matter where they may go. And it's great sport too. The writer has never shot a deer and probably never shall for when one of these fine animals raises its head and looks into the eyes we doubt if we could conscientiously pull a trigger. But deer seem to have been made to hunt and we are glad to see others enjoy the sport.

Dr. R. B. Howard and wife of Kentucky, arrived in Grayling this noon and already have rented an apartment at the Burke building where they will be at home some time during the early part of December. In the mean time they are occupying rooms at Mrs. Carl Sorenson's. Dr. Howard is director of the Consolidated District health department, serving the counties of Crawford, Roscommon, Missaukee and Kalkaska. This department is affiliated with the Senator James C. O'Connor ten million dollar endowment fund for health work among children. Dr. Howard says that permanent offices will be established here in Grayling and that it will require an assistant and probably a couple of nurses to assist him in the work.

Doctor Suggests Bonkura, Happy Lady Finds Relief

Constipation, Nervousness and Annoying Pains Yielded Quickly To New Treatment

That Bonkura is the ideal treatment for stomach and digestive disorders is proven by the statement of Mrs. R. E. Crossett, R. 50, Fairfield Ave., Lansing, Mich., who said:

"I have suffered terribly from constipation for several years. I was continually taking strong laxatives, the doses of which had to be constantly increased. I became nervous and irritable. My back, limbs and feet ached so that I could scarcely go about my work. Spots appeared before my eyes and I felt tired and worn out most of the time. My family physician suggested that I give Bonkura a trial. It surely benefited me greatly from the start. It corrected the constipation as no other remedy did. I had previously as I had to do with other medicines Bonkura gave me such splendid results that I could very materially decrease the doses because my system was absolutely regulated by this remarkable medicine. The annoying pains have left my back, limbs, and feet and I can now sleep well again and do my housework easily. My nervous condition is gone and I feel better in every way. I am certainly glad to recommend Bonkura to every one."

Bonkura works quickly yet thoroughly. One does not have to wait long for results once Bonkura goes into action. Every drop of Bonkura is powerful and pure, and every drop works. Why suffer with ailments as indicated above when you can buy Bonkura at all drug stores. Go to your druggist today and get a Bonkura Health Booklet free, which will give you some valuable information as to how to keep well. Bonkura is sold by the Mac & Gidley drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Doctor Suggests Bonkura, Happy Lady Finds Relief

Constipation, Nervousness and Annoying Pains Yielded Quickly To New Treatment

That Bonkura is the ideal treatment for stomach and digestive disorders is proven by the statement of Mrs. R. E. Crossett, R. 50, Fairfield Ave., Lansing, Mich., who said:

"I have suffered terribly from constipation for several years. I was continually taking strong laxatives, the doses of which had to be constantly increased. I became nervous and irritable. My back, limbs and feet ached so that I could scarcely go about my work. Spots appeared before my eyes and I felt tired and worn out most of the time. My family physician suggested that I give Bonkura a trial. It surely benefited me greatly from the start. It corrected the constipation as no other remedy did. I had previously as I had to do with other medicines Bonkura gave me such splendid results that I could very materially decrease the doses because my system was absolutely regulated by this remarkable medicine. The annoying pains have left my back, limbs, and feet and I can now sleep well again and do my housework easily. My nervous condition is gone and I feel better in every way. I am certainly glad to recommend Bonkura to every one."

Bonkura works quickly yet thoroughly. One does not have to wait long for results once Bonkura goes into action. Every drop of Bonkura is powerful and pure, and every drop works. Why suffer with ailments as indicated above when you can buy Bonkura at all drug stores. Go to your druggist today and get a Bonkura Health Booklet free, which will give you some valuable information as to how to keep well.
